

CALL FOR PEER REVIEWERS

Arizona Journal of Pharmacy

Arizona Journal of Pharmacy is implementing a new process to incorporate blinded, peer-reviewers into the manuscript submission process.

The charge of reviewers is to evaluate the quality, relevance, and merit of submitted papers. Comments should be as complete and detailed as possible and contain clear opinions about strengths, weaknesses, relevance, and importance to the field. Reviewers should consider themselves as mentors to the author(s) as comments should be specific and constructive, and suggestions should be intended to enhance the manuscript. Any inappropriate, demeaning, or distasteful comments will result in the reviewer's permanent removal from the peer review process.

To ensure that the manuscripts published meet the highest standards, each manuscript under consideration is sent to at least two qualified reviewers with expertise in the subject. Reviewers assess the article on criteria such as significance to the field, quality of research, and quality of writing, and then make one of three recommendations: accept the article, return it to the author(s) for revision, or reject. Generally, reviewers are asked to consider no more than two or three articles per year.

Reviewers are sought on a range of topics and will only be solicited for fields in which they identify as an expert. Topics include:

Administration, Management, Leadership	Men's Health
Cardiovascular	Herbals, OTC's, Self-Care
Critical Care, Emergency Medicine	Pain Management, Palliative Care
Diabetes, Endocrinology	Pediatrics, Neonatal
Drug Information, Medication Safety	Psychiatry, Neurology, Substance Abuse
Geriatrics	Public Policy, Pharmacy Law, Advocacy
Hematology/Oncology	Respiratory
Infectious Disease, HIV	Women's Health
